VICINITY NEWS.

The Advocate says Jerry Sundridge caught a five-pound bass a few days ago.

Mordecai Curtis, a prominent and aged citizen of Madison, is dead near Kirksville.

Mrs. Martha Stuck, over 90 years of age, died from the effects of a fall in Boyle county.

Miss Susie Owens, aged 20, daughter of Rev. Martin Owens, died at her home near Quail.

Prof. Emmett Embry, a colored school teacher, has been admitted to practice law at Richmond.

The Central University cadets have selected Shelbyville as the place of their annual outing this year. May 8 is the date.

Misses Muttie and Mintie Shepherd and Matt McKee and John Davis were swept over the dam at Parks' Mill near Cumberland Falls and were drowned.

Mrs. Mariah Alstott, the aged mother of J. F. Alstott, of Powers, died a few days ago in Casey. She was 87 and had been blind for a number of years.

James Patterson, one of the wealthiest farmers in Central Kentucky, died near Paris. He was 81 years old, and owned 2,000 acres of Bourbon and Harrison land.

Mrs. Jolla Borden, a pretty Mt. Vernon widow, wants $5,000 for damages to her affections by S. W. Davis, a saddler, whose goods and chattels she has had attached, just as he was about to ship them, till she can present her claim.

John Walker, a wealthy citizen of Richmond, died Monday night, aged about 50 years. He was a brother of J. Stone Walker, the well-known banker. His sister, Miss Cora, married Leonard C. Hamm, of Cleveland, O., a brother of Senator Marcus A. Hanna. He was a warm-hearted, clever gentleman and had a legion of friends.

The Corinth News says of a former Stanford man: Charles Remer, our former banker, who left here rather suddenly some time ago, is a candidate for one of the consulships to Germany and has a good chance to get it, we understand. An effort is now being made to have him settle the debts left behind in this city and elsewhere so that he may not be handicapped in his efforts to secure the coveted place.

Hubble.

Wm. Blanks lost his work mare a few days ago.

Mrs. Steele Minor has returned to her home in Louisville.

T. C. Rankin sold one yoke of cattle to George Wood for $90.

S. M. Spoonamore is improving his yard fence so as to make a nice flower park.

Elder George Gowen will preach at the Christian church here Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Bettie Walls, of McCrory, visited her sister, Mrs. A. L. Spoonamore, near here this week.

Ashley Johnson, of Tennessee, was here this week in the interest of his Bible College at Kimberlin Heights.

Elder Joe Severance and family have the sympathy of this entire community and the fondest hopes that he may recover.

Frank Holtzman sold 36 bushels of cultivated hemp seed to Mr. Patton, of Sugar Creek, at 75 cents per bushel. John Murphy sold his old corn on the Swartz farm here to some Danville parties for $1.10 at the pen.

The Southern Baptist convention will be well attended by persons from Central Kentucky elected as delegates from the churches in the Blue Grass. The Chesapeake & Ohio Ry. has made a round trip rate of one fare (which is $19.85 from Lexington) from all stations, good going May 3rd to 7th inclusive and good returning 15 days, with privilege of 15 days further extension of time in Wilmington, if desired. Two limited vestibuled trains leave Lexington at 11:25 A. M. and 8:35 P. M. daily and arrive at Wilmington via historic Richmond and Petersburg at 5:45 P. M. and 9:30 A. M. respectively. No other line is as rich in scenic and historical points of interest as the C. & O., as a single glance at its map will show. Passengers will be given choice of routes either by Lynchburg or Stanton and Charlottesville and may if they desire, stop off at Covington, Va., and visit the world famous Virginia Hot Springs. Information will be cheerfully given on receipt of advice. Geo. W. Barney, div. pass. agt., Lexington, Ky.

In remitting for his paper again, Mr. McWheat, of Mt. Salem, writes: I love a thoroughbred democratic paper like the INTERIOR JOURNAL. If it cannot have its way in every thing possibly, it always falls in line with the majority of the democratic party and never bolts or sells out.

Fifty or more people were drowned in Oklahoma by a mighty wave caused by a cyclone.

JOSEPH SEVERANCE.

A Good Man Gone to His Reward.

Death, which was hovering over Mr. Joseph Severance, Sr., when we last went to press, claimed that splendid soldier of the cross at 11 P. M. Wednesday. From the time he suffered the apoplectic stroke, while presiding at the communion table at McCormicks church till he breathed his last, consciousness never returned. His whole right side and tongue were paralyzed and he lay for the most part motionless.

Next morning the remains were brought from Mr. T. J. Hill's, where he died, to his home, where they were viewed by hundreds of citizens yesterday and many a tear was shed as they gazed on the familiar features that they would know no more in life.

Deceased was born at Craft Orchard Aug. 19, 1838, and consequently was nearly 50 years old. His father was John Severance and he came to this county from Hillsboro, N. H., at an early day and married Miss Elizabeth Hamm. To them nine children were born, only three of whom are now living, Messrs. George and William Severance and Mrs. D. C. Payne. When he was 15 years old the subject of this notice came to Stanford and worked in Wm. Holdman's carding mill. Then he clerked in Judge W. R. Carson's confectionery, ran a drug store awhile and finally went into the dry goods business with Col. Thomas W. Miller, and continued in it, with the exception of a year or two, when he traveled for the J. M. Robinson Co. At the time of his death he was the head of the large firm of Severance & Son, for which he had built up a big trade. He was absolutely honest and fair in all his dealings and people grew to have the utmost confidence in his every assertion.

For some time past Mr. Severance had suffered much with his head and he told Dr. Carpenter that he expected to be taken off suddenly and soon, but bound him to secrecy from his family. He hasn't looked well for some time, but no one had an idea that he would so soon be called to his reward.

About a year after his marriage he united with the Christian church, of which his wife was already a member, and he has since lived so that the end would have found him ready at any time. He was a faithful follower of the Lord and did more good in his way than will ever be known this side of the judgment. He delighted to go out to McCormicks church and read and expound the Scripture to his friends there and did so nearly every Sunday. Recently he told his son that he believed he would turn the business over to them and spend the rest of his days laboring for the poorer class, who always found in him a friend and counsellor.

On the 28th of April, 1864, he married Miss Martha F. Warren, daughter of Mr. James R. Warren, and no man ever had a more devoted or truer wife, nor woman a fonder or more thoughtful husband. It is doubtful if in their long life together they ever had even a slight disagreement. She had supreme confidence in his wisdom and judgment and he recognized in her a helpmeet worthy of his fullest love. They had six children, two of whom are dead and it is a singular fact that like himself they died from home diseases, than whom a better boy never lived. He was killed while in discharge of his duty as mail messenger on the Cincinnati Southern, and Lewis died at Mrs. Annie Dudderidge's, when quite young. The other children are William, Joseph, Albert H. and Sam Walton Severance and they do full honor to the Christian mother and father. He was indeed a most loving household. He ruled his children with love and was to them more like a brother than a father. They venerated and respected him and delighted to please him in every way and we do not suppose that a single one of them ever gave him the slightest trouble about his actions. They obeyed him to the letter and he in turn rewarded them in many loving ways.

At the trial of J. A. Butler, charged with forcible detainer by M. Taylor, the jury returned a verdict of guilty.

An appeal was taken by Butler to the circuit court. The plaintiff was assisted by J. Boyle Stone, of Liberty, and defendant by M. F. North, of Mt. Salem. Butler will still remain in jail until the action of the circuit court, which will be held in August.

MT. VERNON.

A young democrat arrived at Dr. E. J. Brown's April 28th.

Remember the temperance mass meeting Monday evening.

The contest at the college this evening promises to be quite entertaining.

Dr. Benton, a prominent physician of Hicrothead, was in town Monday. He is a staunch democrat.

The democratic county committee met Monday and recommended that Mr. R. G. Williams and Judge G. W. McClure be nominated for judge and county attorney respectively. Both are well-known gentlemen of true democratic principles.

It seems that the parties who wish to degrade our town by keeping open saloons will have to take the petition to Frankfort. The best people pray that the governor, who has always taken an interest in the welfare of Bucksnell, will remember that the people by a vote showed their preference for prohibition and Mr. M. J. Cook, a staunch republican and noble man, had the bill passed which whisky men are now trying to have repealed.

Messrs. Champ Mullins and Sam Ward were in town Monday. Mr. W. T. Brooks, of Hazel Patch, was here this week. Mrs. Susan Mullins has been visiting friends here. Mr. Hugh Miller is enjoying a fishing excursion to Williamsburg. Mrs. Proctor has been quite ill. Prof. Zimmerman, of Michigan, is visiting relatives here. Mr. J. S. Reppert, of Orlando, was here Monday. Mr. T. J. Stewart, of Wilder, was here Thursday. Misses Carrie and Lily Butner returned home Saturday. Mrs. Nevels, of Crab Orchard, visited Mrs. Patsy Brown. Mr. D. W. McGuire, of Goochland, was here Monday. Elder Farrar, will preach at Maretburg Saturday evening.

Middleburg, Casey Co.

Frank Jones will soon have his dwelling completed on Walnut street.

The Louisville Dispatch gives much satisfaction to the Casey democracy. I will correspond for it.

Rev. J. K. Reed, of St. Louis, lectured at the Christian church last Friday night on, "Why Don't the Lord Destroy the Devil."

It is not thought the apples are damaged in Casey. Peaches are nearly all killed. The wheat prospects in Casey are flattering. Farmers have been busy this week. Very little maize has been planted though yet.

The statement in last week's I. J. that the democratic committee would select candidates on the 26th is a mistake. Chairman Keeney told your scribe that he could not give the date, but it would be some time this summer.

Your correspondent of last week must have hatched the report himself.

When he was a candidate for Congress last fall, Mr. R. L. Durham showed him his appreciation of his candidacy by canvassing the district for Smith. J. M. Durham is in Louisville this week buying goods.

LANCASTER.

A stock company proposes to construct a telephone line from here to Paint Lick by the way of Point Leavel, Hammack, Mansfield, Cartersville and Lowell, a distance of 20 miles.

Stephen Holecombe, aged 78, died near Cartersville this county, on Sunday. He was an uncle of S. P. Holecombe, of Louisville, who is superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission of that city.

The meeting at the Presbyterian church is still well attended and much good is being done. Any one will be benefited by hearing Rev. McKee, who has grown gray, in the cause of the Master.

H. C. Hamilton, age 22, a bright young man and an uncompromising democrat, has announced himself a candidate for police judge of this city. He is popular and promises to be a formidable candidate.

Some republicans who censured our representative for not voting for Hunter, blame him now for voting for Debowe. This seems to grow out of the belief that their political enemy will hand around the pie.

The fishing fever is on in earnest and many stories are told about catching very large ones, but they have not been put on exhibition. They all go on the Lexington road, as those toll-gates have all been thrown open.

The many friends of the INTERIOR JOURNAL were glad to meet its polite and affable business manager, Mr. E. C. Walton, here last Monday. W. O. Owlsley, one of the most efficient revenue men in this district, was at home Tuesday. Miss Annie, the accomplished daughter of W. R. Robinson, will go on a European tour this summer. Mrs. Robert Campbell, who has been visiting her parents, will return to her home in Glasgow Friday.

The committee which went to Frankfort to explain to the board of equilization why the assessed value of lands in this county is less than last year, and to ask that the proposed increase in the rate of assessment be abandoned was successful. The board seeing that the reasons were amply sufficient and agreeing to let the original assessment stand, without any increase. This is a just decision and the news will be gladly received by the tax-payers.

Another outrage was committed by the turnpike raiders about 12 o'clock Wednesday night. The little house that was built on the Buckeye pike in sight of the court-house for the purpose of collecting toll after the gates were thrown open was burned by a mob of raiders, who rode through the Northern part of town and took the Lexington road. They were seen by several and estimated at about 50 in number. They left a notice on the fence near the ruins addressed to the stockholders and gate-keeper, notifying them not to collect any more toll; saying that they had voted free roads and by — they meant to have them; that their lives and property will pay the forfeit, if any of their boys are hurt. No one was in the house, as young James Johnson had been employed to collect toll, only in day light.

The success with which our people have met heretofore at stock fairs has induced our leading citizens and prominent stock men from other sections to raise a stock company and hold another this year. The shares have all been taken and paid for and the fair will be held on the 16th and 17th of July in Hudson & Walker's beautiful woodland about one mile from town, east of the St. John road. Our people will strive to maintain their reputation for hospitality and everybody will be properly entertained. The valuable premiums given and new features introduced will cause it to be liberally patronized and well attended. It promises to be one of the most pleasant events of the season.

At a meeting of the stockholders Wednesday afternoon J. E. Stormes was elected president and H. T. Logan, vice-president; J. E. Robinson, secretary; Charles Frisbie, assistant sec'y; R. E. McRoberts, treasurer. J. I. Hamilton is general manager and all the stockholders are directors.

About $3,000 worth of premiums will be given.

STANFORD, KY., APRIL 30, 1897

W. P. WALTON.

DEBOE WINS THE PRIZE.

OTHER PICK-UPS AT THE STATE CAPITOL.

FRANKFORT, April 28.—The evil day, so long delayed, has come at last and for the first time in her history Kentucky has a republican U. S. Senator. The only consolation is that it is not Hunter. Senator W. J. DeBoe, of Crittenden, was elected at noon Wednesday, receiving 71 votes to Martin 13 and Blackburn 50, the latter's followers refusing to vote till they saw there was a quorum, and then doing so upon the call of the absentees. When Gov. Worthington announced the vote there was a good deal of shouting and hat throwing, but it was soon over and the body adjourned, without notifying the nominee of the action, but he was on it and stood in the lower lobby to receive the congratulations of his friends. He is a splendid specimen of physical manhood, but it is said that the amount of gray matter within his big head is as scarce as the capillary substance on the outside, which he makes the most of by wrapping it over the bald summit of his cranium after the manner of certain other of our distinguished citizens. All the same, however, he appears to be a mighty clever man, certainly he is a most courteous one and looks like he ought to have had more sense than to have written electioneering letters to Populist Poor, in which he told him that he was with him on many things, especially on the currency question. These letters were sprung too late to have any effect, if indeed they would ever have had, for it was down to elect him, even if he was proven guilty of hog stealing. Everybody seemed relieved that the agony was over and it is hoped the Legislature will now finish what it was called together to do and adjourn. The election of Dr. DeBoe is a decided victory for Gov. Bradley, who is very happy over the result. He will now proceed to dish out the pie and woe is he who brayed at him during the dead lock; not even a smell of it will he ever get.

Though their votes were not necessary to a quorum, the republicans having 71, most of the gold democrats voted to help make it. Baird and Norman, democratic deserters, voted for DeBoe who if they have not already had pecuniary reward, will not get it in the shape of pie. Stout, of Anderson, whose constituency gave him such a roost for his traitorous action in going over the Hunter camp, could not sum up the courage to vote for DeBoe and had his vote recorded for Martin. The ballot was the 112th of the two sessions and the 60th of this. The governor made out DeBoe's certificate of election and before these lines are read he will be hunting his seat in the Senate. Both the Hunter and the Bradley men claim a victory in the election of DeBoe and everybody seems to be pleased, as the fellow said when asked the complaint of the dead man: "No complaint at all," said he, "everybody's satisfied."

Joe Blackburn went down with his colors flying. No man ever had a more faithful following and no set of men ever had a better leader. His flight to succeed himself was the most remarkable in the history of politics. Though he was dealt a bad hand by the gold democrats; he played his cards with consummate skill and only quit when the last one was thrown. Those who claim that but for his selfishness he might have elected Martin to the Senate, are ignorant of the facts. At no time were the bolting republicans in earnest about voting for Martin and at no time could Blackburn have taken his solid strength to him. Senator Blackburn has fought a good fight, but he has not finished his course and he will cut and come again as certain as his name is Joe.

There was a terrific jam in the hall during the joint balloting, but thanks to Hon. B. B. King, whom all the members speak highly of, I had a comfortable seat, which I divided with that arch republican friend, Editor John L. Bosley, of the Paris Reporter, who is an ex-Lincolnite. Beautiful women were out in full force and among them the pretty face of Miss Jennie Warren, of Stanford, shone resplendent. She and Secretary of State Charles Finley occupied seats on the floor, but she did not seem to be as enthusiastic over the result as her escort. Miss Jennie is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. W. O. Bradley, and her elegant manners and winsome ways make her a great favorite at the capital.

Though it had taken two whacks at the State treasury, I had not until today seen the Legislature in action. It is a fearfully and wonderfully constructed body, many of whom show that they have a tough constituency if they are representative citizens. The House especially seems to be composed largely of the wildest of horses, that would be much more at home in the plow or dray than making laws. The speaker earns his salary by pounding almost continually for order he does not get. There does not appear to be any especial leader on either side, though Hon. W. P. Thorne, of Henry, seems to wear the honors on the democratic side. While I was in the House the bill to consolidate the office of register of the land office with that of secretary of State was passed by a nearly unanimous vote and it ought to become a law. It has been a sinecure long enough.

Did I leave my work and come all the way down here to see Kentucky further discredited by the election of a republican to the U. S. Senate? Not much, though I didn't mind watching the proceedings. If it had to be done, my mission was at the suggestion of Gov. Bradley to procure additional legislation for the proposed reformatory and I was successful. Senator Bronston, who introduced the bill at the last session and procured its passage, and Hon. C. C. Spalding, of Marion, who takes great interest in the matter, promised to have the needed changes made and all the members I talked with promised to vote for them. Senators Bronston and Goebel are leaders in the General Assembly and they generally secure what legislation they wish.

If anybody is fool enough to harbor the thought or lay the flatteringunction to his soul that Gov. Bradley is a dead man politically, he will find upon even slight investigation that he is the liveliest corpse in the business. Not only has he not hurt himself among the best men of his party and decent men of all parties by sending Hunter to grass, but he has made himself solid with the best element everywhere. His name to an application for pie will be as good for a slice as a cent is for a ginger cake and those whose mouths are watering had better make a note of it. Though a red hot republican and an intense partisan, Gov. Bradley is the most democratic governor who has occupied the executive mansion in many day. He keeps open house to his friends of all parties and rich and poor, high and low can always get a hearing from him.

The most disgusted statesman with political life that I have encountered for some time is Editor J. M. Richardson, of the Glasgow Times. He longs to be back in his sanctum sanctorum and says if the Lord is good enough to let him get back and the people will forgive this first offense, he will promise never to ask them for office again.

Senator E. C. Linney, who graduated from the printer's case and who was one of the noble band that helped to drive Hunter from the State, was especially courteous to me. He is very proud of the stand he took and is hilarious over the outcome.

Except Chief Justice Lewis, who has a distinguished and military bearing, and Judge Painter's mammoth moustache, the court of appeals is not an imposing affair. Judge Burnam is a good looking man, but he wears a sort of I-havn't-got-any-business-here expression. Senator Lindsay was making a powerful speech against the injustice of the Marion circuit court in fining the L. & N. for discriminating against Lebanon in freight rates, when I looked in upon the layout, but it seemed as pearls cast before swine. A prominent republican said to me that "there isn't a man on the bench equal to your circuit judge in legal ability." And yet the court sometimes tells our man that he is wrong.

I am not a betting man, but if I was I wouldn't want anything better than to give odds of two to one that John W. Yerkes will be collector of this district and Gen. Dan R. Collier surveyor of the port at Louisville. All the signs point that way and a great many people all over the State will rejoice in their selection.

The State house square is now in all the beauty of spring time loveliness. The lawn is carpeted in velvety green and the trees are sufficiently in leaf to hide the hideous old capitol, which in its tumble down condition is a dishonor to the great State of Kentucky, but it is likely to remain so till the arrival of general prosperity and an increase in the tax rate. Speaking of taxes, the House and Senate are at loggerheads on the rate to be fixed for taxation. The former put it at 52¢ and the latter cut it down five cents and there is a possibility that the present rate will continue.

Stanford people will be glad to hear that Editor A. R. Dyche, of the board of equalization, told me that a reduction of the increase of valuation of town lots will be made, but the country people will continue to give the board Hail Columbia for sticking to the increase on lands.

W. P. W.

MAYOR TOOD, of Louisville, could not elect Hunter Senator, nor get the nomination himself but he has succeeded in a more important undertaking. The woman he asked to become his wife agreed to do so and the marriage was consummated at St. Louis Wednesday. The bride is an heiress and her name was Miss Laura Durkee.

Mr. CLEVELAND's whine that "the party placed in power as a result of splendid democratic patriotism has failed to meet the obligations of the people's trust," is hardly worthy of him. If an old bird like himself was caught with chaff, he ought to eat it without saying a word. "Splendid democratic patriotism" the devil! The "splendid democrats" deserve what they got, but it is a pity that the rest of us have to suffer with them.

POLITICS

The republicans of Warren county, in convention, decided to nominate a composite ticket.

Judge Cantrell has decided to entertain no motion at present to quash those indictments for attempted bribery against Hunter et al.

Ex-Representative of Knox and Whitley counties, John M. Tinsley, has been appointed to the clerkship of the Eddyville penitentiary.

The Paris Kentuckian has a column and a half of candidates' announcements. There are 18 candidates for the nomination for assessor.

If it were a toll-gate to be destroyed, instead of anti-mob law to be made, the Kentucky Legislature would doubtless feel more at home.—C. J.

President McKinley informed an applicant that district attorneys and United States marshals would be permitted to serve out their terms.

The Boyle county republicans will hold a mass convention at the court house in Danville Saturday afternoon, May 22d, to nominate candidates for county offices.

Congressman Lanham, of Texas, wants to have the salaries of all government officers reduced 33 1/3 per cent. He must have given up hope of a re-election.

The election of a Senator from Kentucky makes the Senate a tie, 44 republicans and 44 opposition, but Senator Kyle will vote with the republicans on the tariff bill, giving them 45 votes.

Representative Wheeler introduced a bill in the House at Washington providing for free and unlimited coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1 and declaring dollars so coined to be the unit of value.

Samuel J. Randall, Jr., is a republican applicant for office. That is not the only evidence of the degeneracy of the stock in him. He is unlike his father in every respect, and not an improvement in any respect.—Dispatch.

Ex-Senator Blackburn made a speech at Frankfort Wednesday night, in which he abused those who were responsible for his defeat, and declared that his opponents would before many moons find him and the issue "two of the liveliest corpses" ever seen in Kentucky politics."

Capt. Noel Gaines, of Frankfort, has been appointed by Adj. Gen. Collier to reorganize the State militia, and will begin a tour of inspection about May 14.

An electric car was thrown from the track in Portland, Oregon, and plunged into a slough 25 feet below. Four persons were drowned and 15 injured.

Three men were instantly killed in a collision on the Florida Central and Peninsular railroad at Tampa, Fla. One was John Forepaugh, the circus man.

The Beaver County, Okla., Signer in writing up a recent funeral, thoughtfully remarked that "the corpse, tastefully arrayed in white, lay quietly in the coffin."

Col. Jesse E. Peyton, the "Father of Expositions" and close friend of Henry Clay, died at Haddonfield, N. J.

Six people were burned to death in a fire in New York. A mother tried to save her two children by throwing them from a window, but they were dashed to death.

The executive committee of the Kentucky Press Association decided to hold the next meeting of the association June 17 and 18. The meeting will be at Middlesboro.

Miss Gertrude Lucas, of Fredonia, who was run over by an L. & N. train, several months ago, and had an arm and leg cut off, has brought suit for $25,000 damages.

N. Burress, Son & Co., of Norfolk, Va., one of the most prominent banking firms of the South, has assigned. The liabilities are about $340,000, with $40,000 available assets.

Two toll gates in Mason county were destroyed by turnpike raiders Monday night. The Bath county fiscal court has decided to employ armed guards to protect turnpike property.

Barney Schaff, of Dayton, O., looked down the barrel of a revolver and sniped the trigger to see if it was loaded. The bullet was extracted from his head. His life is in jeopardy.

Just as he was about to be placed in his coffin, John Waggoner, of Lexington, Ind., raised up and asked what the crowd around him meant. He was helped up and is rapidly recovering.

The Greeks have turned to fighting among themselves and of course Turkey will wipe her out if the powers do not interfere. A mob stoned the King's palace and demanded his abdication.

Train wreakers at Fairbanks, Tex., caused a derailment which resulted in the death of one passenger and the injury of 13 others. Three previous attempts had been made at that point within a year.

A sensation was caused at Knoxville, Tenn., by the bringing of scandalous charges against Rev. P. M. Fitzgerald, a prominent Cumberland Presbyterian minister, and a young woman, Rev. Fitzgerald has resigned his pastorate.

Two million dollars' damage was done at Newport News, Va., by fire which broke out in the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad company's pier No. 5. Two large piers, three steamers and a tug were destroyed. Several persons were badly hurt.

Ground was broken at Cordova, Ala., for the erection of a $600,000 cotton mill. Massachusetts millers are the leading spirits in the enterprise, and they have picked this location because of the closeness of the cotton supply and the cheapness of fuel.

The flood situation upon the upper Mississippi and the lower Missouri has become grave. Levees have given way at several points. Thousands of acres of farm lands in Missouri and Illinois are under water. Several lives have been lost, and there has been heavy loss of stock and crops. Both streams continue to rise.

Guthrie, Okla., and the country for miles around were visited by a cloud-burst which destroyed property worth a million or more dollars and caused a heavy loss of life. Twenty-eight persons, mostly Negroes, are known to have perished, but the list of victims is probably much larger, as reports have not yet been received from the section about Guthrie.

Never before in the history of the world and never before in the history of the United States has such a tribute been paid to the noble dead as when at New York Tuesday, with wonderous pageant by land and sea, the nation dedicated the tomb that now holds the body of Gen. U. S. Grant. More than a million people participated. President McKinley and other distinguished men delivered addresses.

An infant son of John Hillard fell into a pan of boiling water in Anderson county and was fatally scalded.

An Indiana man has issued a challenge backing Dr. Tanner against all comers for $10,000 in a fasting contest.

A movement to drive saloons out of the residence portion of the city has been undertaken by Indianapolis ministers.

Thomas Ballard, of Anderson county, will fight for the Eighth district chairmanship in opposition to Yerkes, but he will gnaw a file.

While trying to kill fish with dynamite near Hindman, John Jones was perhaps fatally injured and Mort Huff's arm was blown off.

Benjamin E. Varnon, the last survivor of the Bourbon Grays, a military company organized in Paris in 1840, is dead at that place.

Thomas Wilcher, of Bellevue, O., took an overdose of morphine and came near dying because his sweetheart gave her other fellow a bouquet.

James Cosby and wife, of Graves county, were poisoned by eating canned blackberries. The husband died and the wife is at death's door.

A man and wife at Ocean Grove, N. J., planned to die together. The man killed himself, but failed to shoot his wife according to agreement.

J. C. McCRARY, the undertaker, sold to Girdler Bros., of Somerset, one of his handsome hearse and sent it down yesterday.

A LAUNDRY has sent shirts down to 5¢ and collars down to 10¢ a dozen in Louisville, but Stanford has not got one of it.

The Paris Kentuckian notes a sale of hogs at 8¢. Prosperity has evidently struck Bourbon, or possibly "Old Bourbon" has struck Craddock. Whew?

THE republicans will nominate Mr. T. J. Culton, present city attorney, of Crab Orchard, for county attorney. He is a very clever gentleman and will no doubt poll his party's strength.

A COFFEE war has been on at Crab Orchard and A. H. Bastin tells us that he knocked the bottom out of it by offering two packages of Arbuckle's for 25¢. Five months ago it was selling at 25¢ a package.

MISS KATE BLAIN, school superintendent, hands us the following: Examinations for white teachers will be held on the third Fridays and Saturdays in May, June, July and August. Those for the colored, the fourth Fridays and Saturdays of the same months.

FELL.—Little Josephine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Paxton, fell from the back porch of their residence Wednesday and was painfully hurt.

BON MORELAND asks us to say that he and Charley Green have dissolved partnership and that he is now by himself in the laundry business, representing the old Troy, of Dayton, O.

THOUGH children seem to be coming every day, R. M. Newland finds that there are fewer of the school age here than last year, there being only 311 now to 327 then. There are 149 boys and 162 girls.

GRAND FATHER.—Sheriff T. D. Newland is now a grandfather and he bears the honors like a veteran. His daughter, Mrs. S. W. Duncan, of Pendletonville, Texas, has just presented her husband with a pretty little daughter.

BETTER.—Mrs. Allee Newland sends us word from Crab Orchard that the sick, Col. John Buchanan, Asher Harvis and Miss Leah Steger, are all better. The latter, it is claimed, has been healed by faith.

OLD FACTORY SOLD.—Mr. P. Howell, who owns the old factory buildings and machinery, once the pride of Stanford, has disposed of them to Mr. Jas. H. Carter for about $500, who is undecided what disposition he will make of them.

HURT.—Little Neilia Earp was painfully hurt Wednesday by falling from a baby buggy. Her little brother, Everett, accidentally pushed the buggy from the porch and she struck the brick pavement face foremost, cutting an ugly gash in her nose.

A TRAMP printer who was here Tuesday told us that he had applied at 111 printing offices during the past three months and that he had only gotten two days' work. He left here for the Nashville Exposition where he was sure he would find employment of some kind.

TO THE EX.—Mrs. Judge M. C. Saufley has sent to the Nashville Exposition a pair of solid silver candle snuffers that have been in her family for over 100 years. They are wonderfully well preserved considering the fact that they did service for three-quarters of a century.

If Lucien Lasley succeeds in arousing Danville people with his sanctification business, he will surprise the natives here. Old Jack Thompson used to say very irreverently that there were but two classes in Danville, one who thought themselves as good as Jesus Christ, the other who thought themselves better.

THE Advocate says that the sound money democrats of Boyle will fuse with the republicans. Of course they will. A sore democrat who has tried to run things and couldn't have everything his way would even fuse with his mother-in-law if he thought he could accomplish the defeat of the party that wouldn't knuckle to his whims. In about nine cases out of 10 a sore democrat helps the party he tries to bury.

PARTY.—George Ellis and Barnes Warren attended a delightful party given by Miss Belle Bogle at Hustonville Tuesday evening in honor of the following visiting young ladies: Misses Maud Moore and Pearl Johnson, of Danville, and Lena Thurman, of Lawrenceburg. Dancing was engaged in, a delightful lunch was served and nothing was left undone that would add to the pleasure of those who were fortunate enough to be present.

DAVID A. BAUGH, familiarly known as "Doc," announces himself for representative in this issue. He comes from a democratic family, his father, Joseph Baugh, and John Young being the only democrats in the Highland precinct at the close of the war. Mr. Baugh cast his first vote for Hon. G. A. Lackey and has since been a worker in the democratic ranks. He claims that if given the nomination he will secure many votes from the republican party and will win as sure as the election day comes.

A WASHINGTON correspondent, evidently hard up for news sends out the following: "Congressman Davison, who is a great lover of children, was quite conspicuous at the children's Easter Festival on the White House grounds. He employed a 'dago' with hand organ to accompany him. Over 5,000 children followed the judge and the dago around until the festival was nearly over." Just imagine the great statesman playing the role of monkey for a dago organ grinder. Good Lord delivere us. Those who heard the gray gelding speak during the last campaign can best appreciate how well he is equipped to take the place of one of those amusing little creatures.

LINCOLN county will be entitled to eight votes in the Frankfort convention June 2, but we have heard of no steps to name delegates.

THE Stanford office of the Singer Sewing Machine Co. will close to-day and it is more than likely that Manager J. W. Perrin will get a good promotion.

MR. W. H. TRAYLOR tells us that he will not run his distillery this year. He has about 5,000 barrels of whisky on hand and wants to clean up a little before he makes any more.

FIGHT.—Shady Wilder and George Bailey, a Negro, had a fight in a corn field on S. J. Embry's farm yesterday when the latter cut an ugly gash in Wilder's head with a barn planter.

SPRING weather and ethereal mildness have prevailed for several days and vegetation has had a hustling move on itself, but it will get a set back if the signal service is right in saying that after showers to-night it will be decidedly colder Friday.

OLD ONE.—Mr. Simeon H. Cook has a water pitcher which has been in constant use for 115 years. It is of stone-ware, handsomely decorated and has a silver top which glitters like a new silver dollar. It formerly belonged to his father who bought it in his early youth.

THE Odd Fellows' celebration of the 78th anniversary of the order proved both pleasant and profitable. Judge Milton J. Durham's excellent address giving the people a better insight into the workings of the noble order than they had ever had before. It dispenses more charity than any of the secret societies, having since 1830 paid to the widows and orphans and for sick and other benefits, $75,288,703. Its total membership is now 779,985, while the Daughters of Rebecca number 263,043. The Liberty song by a score of ladies and gentlemen was rendered in a lively manner, while Robert Hardling Winters, Stanford's favorite orator, as he was introduced by Chairman J. T. Sharrard, added another laurel to his brow by delivering an appropriate oration. Mr. A. C. Sine's recital of the poem in which a man violates his vow and exposes the secrets of the order to his wife and awakes delighted to find it all a dream was exceedingly good and won much applause. Miss Mershon was too hoarse to sing, but Miss Cowen's solo was so much enjoyed that she was forced to respond to an encore, when she sang in sweetest effect, "My Old Kentucky Home."

COL. T. P. HILL's introduction of Judge Durham was in his best vein and Mr. Sharrard's occasional remarks were pointed and witty. It was 10 o'clock when Rev. J. B. Cronch pronounced the benediction and the crowd dispersed with feelings of largely increased admiration of the order, which so fully ennobles the principles of Friendship, Love and Truth.

The wheat is looking unusually well all through the blue-grass section.

M. S. & J. W. Baughman bought of Dr. J. K. VanArsdale a gelding for $65. Culton & McClure sold to Bradford, of Madison, a bunch of calves at $16.50.

Highest market price paid for wool. Call at Warren & Shanks' for sacks, Win. Moreland.

Thompson Bros. sold in Garfield a lot of cows at 24¢, a bunch of heifers at 3¢ and a few yearlings at $12.

The wool men of this section will meet at Harrodsburg Monday and set the price for the present season.

G. A. Swinebroad sold in the last few days 40 stock cattle at 3¢ to 4¢ and bought a lot of stockers at 2¢ to 2¢.

McClure & Naper sold at Lancaster Monday some steers at $23.75, milk cows at $20, dry cows at $17 and several heifers at $15.

J. H. Baughman & Co. bought in Winchester a car-load of wheat at 90¢. They also bought of Silas Anderson 200 barrels of corn at $1.50.

O. P. Huffman bought of J. H. Baughman some hogs at 3¢; and a lot of butcher stuff of Rev. Joseph Ballou and Dr. Hugh Reid at 24 and 3¢.

Came to our stable a young work mule. Owner can get by proving property and paying for this notice and the keep. M. S. & J. W. Baughman.

J. A. Allen sold to Parrish & Douglass 200 barrels of corn at $1.50. W. W. Pigg sold to H. C. Allen, of Georgetown, six Aberdeen Polled Angus cows and calves for $500.—Richmond Climax.

F. Reid has made the following sales recently: Four Goldust fillies, three to four years-old, from $90 to $150; four Poland China gilts for $50; one Jersey and Shorthorn bull for $70; nine ear-loads of hay at 50 to 55¢; 40 170-pound hogs at 3¢. Mr. Reid refused $350 for a pair of his Goldust fillies.

There were 250 cattle on the Winchester market, best 1,200 pound steers bringing 44¢, the highest price of the day except a lot of first class yearlings which were sold by the head bringing at least 44¢ each. Heifers went at 24 to 34¢ each, milch cows $20 to $35. Some smooth oxen, 1,000 lbs., 34¢ each.—Democrat.

B. G. Fox sold to Lewis & Hargis, of Atlanta, three head of horses at $75 to $115. He also sold to same parties, for W. C. Rogers, of Lebanon, five horses for $450. This firm bought 18 head of horses at Fox's stable during the past week at from $65 to $130. Arthur W. 2:113, is going good and is in fine shape. Tom Yenger will take him through the Grand Circuit.—Advocate.

RELIGIOUS.

Rev. Dr. E. L. Powell closed his First Christian church Louisville, revival with 52 conversions.

Rev. J. O. A. Vaught, of Versailles, closed a meeting at Catlettsburg Methodist church with 30 additions.

Elder J. T. Sharrard will preach at Christian church Sunday morning and night; morning subject, "Immortality, or After Death—What?" night, "A Three-Fold Proof of Inspiration."

The meeting at Halls Gap church continues to grow in interest. Revs. Grinstead and Davidson preach alternately and a number of confessions and sanctifications are reported.

Rev. W. Raney, of the Theological Seminary of Danville, will lead the Christian Endeavor exercises at Mt. Xenia at 4 p. m. Sunday. You are cordially invited to be present.

In response to Bro. Grinstead's remark of surprise that the Baptists should be so afraid of water as to let Sunday night's rain prevent them from going to church, Bro. Cronch says it is only when sprinkled or poured that they are afraid of it.

Sunday was the 25th anniversary of the inauguration of Dr. E. M. Green as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Danville. Of the 197 members on the roll when he began, only 68 remain, 88 of them having been removed by death. The congregation now numbers upward of 300. During the 25 years the congregation has nearly rebuilt the church, contributed $42,000 to benevolent purposes and paid out nearly $60,000 in congregational expenses and pastor's salary.

Sunday was the 25th anniversary of the inauguration of Dr. E. M. Green as pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Danville, which was held at Hustonville, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, C. H. Ferran, Danville; Vice President, Meredith E. Pruitt, Hustonville; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Nannie Caldwell, Danville; Recording Secretary and Treasurer, Charles Christensen, Danville; Directors, Mrs. W. L. Pearce, Kingsville; Elijah Benzley, Stanford; Walker Hunn, Shelby City; Mrs. J. F. Gover, Turnersville; Miss Emma Buster, Burgoon; Miss Sallie Yunkey, Perryville; Miss Anna Cummings, Bethel; J. H. Allen, Harrodsburg. The convention will probably be held at Perryville next year. A notable action of the convention was a resolution to forward a carload of grain to the sufferers from the famine in India.

THE eighth district convention, Christian Endeavor Society of Kentucky, which was held at Hustonville, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, C. H. SQUIRE BAILEY DOWNS JUDGE SAUFLEY.

Col. T. P. Hill tells this amusing incident on Judge M. C. Saufley:

While James B. McCreary was governor a vacancy occurred in the office of justice of peace in the Turnersville precinct and the judge interested himself and procured the appointment of John Bailey to fill the place. Bailey had been with the judge in the Confederate army where they had been great friends and chums, and he naturally expected that by procuring Bailey's appointment he would have a friend at court. Bailey was a country-raised boy, who had never read a page of law in his life, and seldom if ever witnessed a trial, but he was a man of strong conviction, brusque, honest and determined, formed his own opinions and held to them with great tenacity. It so happened that in a few days after his appointment, Bailey was called upon to preside in the country in a case for a breach of the peace against a very influential farmer, who was a warm friend of Saufley, and Saufley was employed to defend him. On the day set for trial the judge went out to a school-house in the country and found Justice Bailey perusing the General Statutes and a dozen farmers sitting around, who had been summoned for jurymen. After waiting a reasonable time, Saufley arose and moved the court to dismiss the case for want of prosecution, there being no county attorney present to represent the Commonwealth. Justice Bailey overruled the motion and notified the judge that the Commonwealth could always get justice in his court, that was a matter he would see to himself, and asked the judge if he was ready for the defendant. Upon being answered in the affirmative, the justice proceeded to swear the jury, when the judge objected to one of the men, because as he stated he was not friendly with his client. His objection was overruled, the justice stating that he had seen the jurymen and defendant in conversation that morning. The jury was then sworn. Justice Bailey introduced the witnesses for the Commonwealth, when he examined in chief himself and turned over to the judge for cross-examination. When the Commonwealth was through Saufley introduced the witnesses for the defendant, all of whom were cross-examined by Justice Bailey, who instructed the jury that the offense having been fully proven, it was their duty to find the defendant guilty and fix his punishment at the fine prescribed by the General Statutes. Saufley made an argument for the defendant and then Justice Bailey made an argument for the Commonwealth for about 30 minutes, in which he urged the jury to fix the punishment at the highest sum. In a very few minutes the jury returned a verdict of guilty and fixed the punishment at a fine of $10 and costs. Upon his return to town, the judge complained greatly of his friend, Justice Bailey, but the members of the bar laughed and told him that Bailey would never have favorites in his court and the Commonwealth, whose commission he held, would always have a representative therein.

MATRIMONIAL.

James Florence, 21, and Miss Della Neikirk, 18, were married at Jeff Carson's near Turnersville, yesterday.

D. W. Edwards, a handsome widower of Lebanon, and Miss Jennie Phillips, of Harrodsburg, were married at the bride's father's home.

A man and wife at Ocean Grove, N. J., plumped to die together. The man killed himself, but failed to shoot his wife according to agreement.

Thomas Graham, twice a widower and 68 years old, was married near Jellico, Tenn., to Miss Sophie Wilson, sweet 16. A son of the groom acted as best man.

Richard Foley and Miss Cordelia Goode, daughter of George Goode, of the West End, were married a few days ago by Rev. Burke. The bride is a pretty lassie of 18, while the groom is a clever young man who has just reached his majority.

Electric Bitters.

Electric Bitters is a medicine suited for any season, but perhaps more generally needed when the languid, exhausted feeling prevails, when the liver is torpid and sluggish and the body is weak and debilitated. A prompt use of this medicine often averts long and perhaps fatal bilious fevers. No medicine will act more surely in counteracting and freeing the system from the malarial poison. Headache, Indigestion, Constipation, Diarrhea yield to Electric Bitters. Soc. and $1.00 per bottle at W. H. McRoberts Drug Store.
